Transformational Coaching for anyone in the US, and therapy for any WA resident.

Why do I need a Disclosure?

Thank you for choosing me as your Transformational Coach. Coaching is for anyone in the US, who would like transformational work to grow and evolve into your true nature, live your purpose, and feel fulfilled. These office policies allow my primary focus to be on the healing work. The following disclosure information is meant to respect your right to be informed.

Treatment Philosophy

Change occurs when past programming gets cleared and updated with clarity of values, healthier boundaries, improved communication and emotional intelligence, and an increase in body awareness to receive guidance from within. Your internal guidance (mental, emotional, physical, spiritual) will set the direction of your goals.

Coaching is appropriate for working on particular themes (ex. perfection, procrastination, avoidance of intimacy, lack of clarity, not feeling worthy or enough, playing small, controlling or other dominating behaviors), or specific triggers (ex. when others ignore you, you're not appreciated, you don't feel safe) AND you have enough self-regulation to come to your session with a focused intention, and be able to participate in the clearing work, along with tools to self-soothe or calm your nervous system after a session.

The number of sessions will be determined by your experiences, goals, and follow through.

Risks and Benefits

Coaching involves discussing unpleasant aspects of your life, you may experience difficult emotions. It is assumed when you've selected coaching instead of more intensive therapy, that you are capable of regulating your emotions and are able to self-soothe outside of sessions. This transformational work often leads to feeling more free, authentic, and alive with purpose. You will deepen your capacity to be fully present to your experience and improve your self-care., which I guide you through. You are encouraged to ask questions and practice the resourcing tools provided.
